

Special Olympics Kansas

Annually, more than 9,900 dedicated Kansans share their time to provide athletes with the best training and competition opportunities possible.

The Special Olympics movement swept into Kansas in 1970, with the first games taking place in Parsons. Today it has 107 Local Programs and Teams in five regions and includes more than 4,900 athletes of all abilities.

Special Olympics Kansas (SOKS) offers 71 state, regional and local competitions throughout Kansas communities each year.
