SUMMER GAMES
June 1 - June 3
2018
Maize South High School

Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt.

Athlete Oath
On July 20, 1968, the first International Special Olympics Summer Games were held at Soldier Field in Chicago, IL. On that historic date, a thousand people with intellectual disabilities from 26 U.S. States and Canada competed in track and field, swimming, and floor hockey. In doing so, those brave athletes launched a movement that has welcomed tens of millions of people to the playing fields of sport and has changed the hearts and minds of people in more than 170 countries around the world. Today, Special Olympics is not only the world’s largest sport, public health and social inclusion force for people with intellectual disabilities and their families, but it is also the world’s largest grassroots movement promoting dignity, belonging and respect for all.

As we look back, we can see with a clear focus just how revolutionary 1968 was for the world. In a time when institutionalization was expected, and very often forced, Special Olympics was about tearing down walls. In a time when stigma was pervasive, Special Olympics was about joy and giftedness. In a time when divisiveness between people of different races, economic backgrounds and religions seemed intractable, Special Olympics was about unity. In a time when frustration, tension and anxiety about the future was epidemic, Special Olympics was about the power of individual citizens to find purpose and hope by meeting, working and celebrating together. In short as we look back, we can see very clearly that the first International Special Olympics Summer Games were a revolutionary challenge to the world that remains as powerful today as it did then.

To celebrate all this, in July 2018 we will bring global awareness to the future of the movement through a momentous week of sport, history and music which will bring together leaders from sports, education, politics, healthcare, academia, youth leadership, music and more. We not only plan to celebrate together the past, but more importantly, to launch our next 50 years with calls to action as bold and impactful as our founders would have demanded. We hope you will join us not just to celebrate this extraordinary legacy, but also to challenge anew a world hungry for a message of inclusion.

50 years ago, my mother Eunice Kennedy Shriver started a revolution, to help change the lives of people with intellectual disabilities through sports. Today, through the work of Special Olympics and our partners, we have delivered profound change and inspiring progress – but we have much more progress to make. So as our inclusion revolution continues, we are determined – with your help-- to create a world where people with intellectual disabilities and other marginalized communities are included and experience true freedom, justice, equality and equity. Join our inclusion revolution!

Sincerely,

Timothy P. Shriver, Ph.D.

ATHLETICS TRACK EVENTS STAGING

Athletes participating in running events will be staged in the main staging area, 15 minutes prior to the start of each event. A “first-call” will be given over the PA system for athletes to report to the staging area. It is your responsibility to get the athletes to the staging area on time. NO make-up divisions will be held and athletes will not be added to other divisions. After you leave athletes in the staging area, they will compete, receive awards and be released back to the coach. Any athlete that is involved in a running event that causes him/her to miss the field event during their scheduled age group will be scratched.

ATHLETE HOUSING POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Special Olympics is an athlete-centered movement that welcomes athletes with intellectual disabilities of all abilities to participate in sports training and athletic competition. Special Olympics is open to persons with intellectual disabilities over the age of eight and offers a Young Athletes program for individuals with intellectual disabilities under the age of eight.

The health and safety of all Special Olympics participants is of paramount importance to Special Olympics. Participants should feel that every Special Olympics event is a safe and positive experience and should not be fearful of other athletes, coaches or volunteers.

Arranging housing for overnight events involves the consideration of a variety of factors, including the varying abilities, ages and behaviors of athletes, the availability of housing and the costs associated with overnight accommodations.

POLICY

Requirements

1.) Gender – Athletes and volunteers may not share a room with an athlete or volunteer of the opposite sex. Local Programs may allow the following exceptions:

   a. Married athletes who are both attending the event as members of a registered delegation. This exception does not apply to the spouse of an athlete who is not participating in the event, but attending solely as a spectator.

   b. Married volunteers who are both attending the event as members of a registered delegation. This exception does not apply if one of the volunteers is required to share a room with an athlete (other than the married couple’s child), if this scenario will create a situation whereby an athlete is housed with a volunteer of the opposite sex.

   c. Family members of the opposite sex who serve as a one-to-one chaperone for the related athlete.
d. Housing in a facility that has multiple private rooms in addition to living space (such as a condominium or dormitory). Both males and females may be assigned to one condominium if necessary, but private rooms may not be shared by individuals of the opposite sex. Coaches must also be housed in the condominium and the coach/athlete ratio (as outlined in the supervision section of the policy) must be maintained.

e. Use of barracks or other facility (such as gym) where a large number of individuals are assigned to one room. Athletes and volunteers must be separated as much as possible by gender (for example, females on one side of the gym and males on the other side).

2. Supervision

The coach/athlete ratio of at least one properly registered coach to every four athletes must be maintained during overnight events. Proper supervision can be maintained without having a coach present in the room at all times. All coaches must be screened in accordance with the Special Olympics Kansas Volunteer Screening Policy.

3. Young Athletes

Young Athletes events that involve overnight activities require increased supervision and therefore, Young Athletes participants must be accompanied by a properly registered and screened parent, guardian or an individual designated by a parent or guardian at all overnight activities. Rooming assignments for Young Athletes should be separate from the remainder of the delegation, whenever possible (for example, separate hotel rooms).

4. Implementation

Local Programs are responsible for implementing the policy for their delegation.
| TIME   | 8:00   | 8:15   | 8:30   | 8:45   | 9:00   | 9:15   | 9:30   | 9:45   | 10:00  | 10:15  | 10:30  | 10:45  | 11:00  | 11:15  | 11:30  | 11:45  | 12:00  | 12:15  | 12:30  | 12:45  | 1:00   | 1:15   | 1:30   | 1:45   | 2:00   | 2:15   | 2:30   | 2:45   | 3:00   | 3:15   | 3:30   | 3:45   | 4:00   | 4:15   |
